NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The ginger TODAY'S PRICES ON seems to have escaped from the stock market, at least it doesn't show its old form, and there seems to be latent strength only in a few stocks or in (Quotations furnished by W. B. Hibbs & Co., bankers and brokers, Hibbs Building, members New York Stock Exchange, Washington Stock Exchange and Chicage Board of Trade.) spots as pools get to work and give spots as pools get to work and give tone to these specialties. The great strength shown last night was not reflected in the opening, as everyone expected that it would be. It was perhaps used for the purpose of dumping stock on the London market at the opening.

It is evident that the public, or at least 75 per cent of wnat is known as "the public," has quit the stock market for the time being at least. Whether the public has learned the lesson of many years of experience and been sat-er the public has learned the lesson of many years of experience and been satisfied with good profits, and is out until another big break or not is a question, but une general impression seems to favor a renewal of public buying after January 1, when the numerous dividend and interest payments will induce them to come in for the usual "January rise."

St. Paul the Leader. St. Paul seems to be in excellent position, with cumulative buying in evisition, with cumulative buying in evidence, while the Harrimans are a bit toppy. It is likely that the buying of St. Paul represents operations of a new pool just getting to work. In the last day or two pool operations have been discovered in Missouri. Kansas and Texas, and the explanation of a rise of nearly 3 points in both the common and preferred stock discovered.

A number of stocks in the secondary group of rails, notably Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line, Chesapeake and Ohio, Kansas City Southern, and minor rails, remained very dull throughout the session, but the price list of last evening was well maintained.

The general market opened with declines averaging ½ point in the leading railroad shares, but the strength of Consolidated Gas, General Electric and a few other specialities caused a renewal of buying orders for the railroad shares which was reflected in the wiping out of nearly all the losses. Southern Pacific was heavy and its weakness is said to be due to the desire of insiders to acquire stock.

Another heavy feature of the market was the netal stocks. Smelters can be accounted for by the fact that silver metal is selling at 4% the fact that silver metal is selling at 4% the fact that silver metal is selling at 4% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 4% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 4% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 6% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 6% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 6% to the content of the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 6% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 6% to the content of the fact that silver metal is selling at 6% to the content of the foreign market was the easing off in the call money rates which had been stiff during the settlement. Sugar was very weak breaking to 132% or 1½ points. Copper lost % but this was about the only weakness shown. In a rather uninteresting session on the local Stock Exchange.

Capital Traction stocks showed weaks, while the Railway preferred was strong. The former opened with moderate business at 131, and then weakened after seventy-four shares had been a Saturday. The expected falling off after the holiday rush did not develop. On the contrary, the rush that the retailers were under to provide for the Thanksgiving Day demand made them asking permission to "shade prices a little."

Gates riled up and thereupon advertised steel rails laid down in Chicago at $17 a ton. Carnegle came back with a rate of $15.50 a ton, and added, "If this price is not low enough I will cut another dollar and will then be making money on reteel rails."

This was the blow that cut deep. Immediately Gates started the mevement for a gathering of outside steel men to see if something could not be done to get rid of Carnegle. When he talked on the subject this is what he said: "Get that wild Scotchman out of the business or we will have to get out. He will jump into print with trade secrets and he is dangerous."

Immediately began the negotiations which ultimately secured the formation of the billion-dollar United States Steel Corporation, and since his former associates have tried to keep Carnegle quiet and succeeded for eight years, but he has broken out again, much to their disgust. Gates doesn't care—he is out, too, and he quit the stock market before the panic of 1907 just as he did before the panic of 1907 just as he did before the panic of 1901.
